

Welcome to the Spring Edition of the All Angles Newsletter

Hopefully you will find this newsletter useful, informative and interesting. This edition features information on creating the perfect venue, wedding news and an update of our wedding fair schedule. Enjoy!

How to Choose the Perfect Venue

Your venue you choice is one of the most important decisions you need to make when planning your venue. Below are our top five tips for picking the perfect venue to suit you, your guests and your budget.

1. Pick a venue which best suits your marriage service requirements

Do you want an all-encompassing venue that can host your event from start to finish or simply a venue to host your evening reception? There are a number of options available including venues that hold a civil marriage license and can host the ceremony, the wedding breakfast and the evening celebrations. Or do you want a venue for your evening celebrations that allows you to party to the wee small hours! Whatever your requirements, make a list of the relevant questions you need to ask before going to see the venue.

2. Pick a venue that best suits your guest numbers

It is extremely difficult to know exact number prior to choosing your venue you, however you can have make an approximation based on your anticipated guests vague idea. Some venues are small and intimate others are much larger and can accommodate many hundreds of people. Have an estimate of the numbers of guests you are looking to invite in order to help you select the most appropriate venue size for you.

3. Is geography important to you?

As families spread out and base themselves across the country so location is becoming less and less important. However, It is still worth bearing in mind the location of your venue in relation to your guests. Is there onsite or nearby accommodation? Have you elderly relatives unable to travel? Does there need to be good communication routes for those coming from far away?

4. Pick a venue that best suits your entertaining requirements

Every wedding is unique and everyone has different ideas about what entertainment they want to provide for there guests. Perhaps you want a live band, maybe a disco, or maybe both. Whatever your ideas talk to your venue to find out whether this would be possible & whether your venue can help organise this

5. Pick a venue that best suits your budget

Most brides have a budget for their wedding and the venue can often consume a large percentage of this. Choose a venue that best suits your budget. Room decoration, balloons and other décor can help ensure the venue is tailored to your exact theme even if on initial viewing this is not the case.

Another Wedding Film Enters UK Charts

The third wedding film in as many months has entered the UK this week and looks set to be another box office winner. 27 Dresses follows the 'always the bridesmaid never the bride' antics of Jane (Katherine Heigl) and is yet another wedding themed film to join the list of this cinema hits. Margot's Wedding and The Accidental Husband have already featured in 2008 UK film charts and 27 Dresses looks set to join them as a cinema winner, proving a wedding theme to be as popular as ever with UK audiences.

Wedding Fairs

All Angles will be featured at the following wedding fairs in Spring:

30th March – Plymouth Pavilions Westcountry Wedding Fair

11am – 4.30pm – This wedding fair provides access to a range of exhibitors including cakes, cars, suits and dresses. All Angles will be available to discuss chair covers, balloon displays, table decorations and centre pieces, so why not pop long and say hello. Entrance fee £4 per person or £12 for a family ticket.

6th April – The Cedars Inn, Barnstaple – Regional Wedding fair

11am – 4pm – Providing brides with the opportunity to take a look at both the venue and the accessories needed to provide the perfect day. All Angles will be exhibiting an example table along with balloon and centre piece displays.

